

A Memoir of Samuel George Morton, M. D., Late President of the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia

By Charles Delucena Meigs

General Books LLC. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 20 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.0in. This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1851. Excerpt: . . . I love to imagine the charm that wrapt his spirit when from the hither shore of the Mer de Glace, looking across that ocean of ice, he cast his eyes from base to summit, 8000 feet along the ascending obelisk of the Aiguille du Dru, or scanned the long, melancholy desolation of the Moraines, that bound the Mer de Glace, on either hand. But I must no longer indulge in these retrospections. Our traveller, pursuing his journey, visited Milan and Pavia, and thence proceeded to Turin. In fine, he spent the summer in visiting various places upon the continent. The following winter was passed at Edinburgh again in sedulous attendance upon the lectures, and in active business at the Infirmary; so that, he certainly enjoyed remarkable opportunities to become acquainted with matters of his profession and make amends for the deficiencies of his early...

READ ONLINE
[9.23 MB]

Reviews

Very beneficial to all of class of people. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. You may like just how the writer create this publication.

-- Audra Klocko PhD

Thorough information! Its this type of great go through. It is amongst the most incredible publication i actually have read through. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

-- Germaine Welch