Like the trout, he has habits which we must be acquainted with in order to find him, and when found we ourselves may be found--wanting. Am I not a convicted boaster? Was it not only yesterday when I to myself said proudly I m a crackshot ? Deeply hast sunk the lesson thou hast given, And shall not soon depart. It requires much experience to divine the whereabouts of Bob White. If the weather be fair, start early, for the birds will be on their feeding-grounds at sunrise, and will be found in the fields of stubble, or in the midst of the rag-weed, and along the brier-fringed ditches; and do not forget the field of buckwheat, for they are especially fond of it. About ten or eleven they will cease feeding, and will seek the sunny side of some covert near a stream, where they will quench their thirst after their morning meal. Here they will dust and preen themselves, and take their noonday siesta. The birds will generally remain here till three or four hours after midday, and, closely huddled as they are, they are difficult for the dog to find. The sportsman, if wise, will now follow the example of the birds, and seeking the quiet of some sheltered sunny nook, will take his lunch and rest himself and his dogs. How well we remember that pleasant spring-side, with the dogs stretched before us to catch the...
